STDC—ROADSAFE: Cycle Safety

Pass cyclist slowly; leave 1 metre between your car and the cyclist in town, and 1.5 metres on rural roads. When turning left and a cyclist is approaching from behind let the cyclist go through and always use your indicators. Watch for cyclists turning in front of you without looking or signaling; especially children. Be extra vigilant in school zones and residential neighborhoods. Watch for bikes coming from driveways or behind parked cars. Check your side mirrors before opening your door.

Remember The faster you travel, the longer it takes to stop. According to the Auckland Transport website, if you're driving at 50km/h you'll need 41 metres to stop. Of that distance, you'll travel almost 20 metres in the time it takes to move your foot to the brake pedal. That means that if a child is 20 metres from your car, you'll still be driving at almost 50km/h when you hit her/him – even a healthy adult has about a 40 per cent chance of being killed by a vehicle at that speed. Slowing down gives you a much better chance of being able to stop in time if something unexpected happens. Follow the speed limit in school zones or drive more slowly if the situation calls for it, such as if you see a group of children on the footpath. Young children can be unpredictable and don't always understand road rules. Be on the lookout for children on the footpath who may run onto the road or decide to cross, or young people on bicycles or skateboards. Please help us to keep your children safe.
